GRILLING SAFETY

Tips for Safe Grilling:

Few people think of a backyard picnic or barbecue as a dangerous event, but approximately 7,000 people each year suffer burn injuries as a result of grilling accidents. Burns can result in infection and life-threatening complications. You can easily prevent personal injuries from grilling this summer by following a few basic safety precautions.

- Do not grill indoors
- Wear appropriate clothing when grilling
- Keep children and pets away from the area where the grill is in use
- Proper maintenance and regular cleaning are also essential for grill safety
- Keep a first-aid kit handy to manage any minor injuries

WORKERS' COMPENSATION

Leaked Amazon Pamphlet Highlights Numerous Safety Concerns

A leaked wellness pamphlet from Amazon is making waves after it referred to warehouse workers as "industrial athletes" and advised them to take part in the company's "Working Well" program to prepare for walking up to 13 miles a day and lifting tens of thousands of pounds per shift. While the pamphlet is from 2020, it shows how Amazon has been making a concerted effort to portray itself as a "worker friendly" employer in light of numerous reports documenting the rampant injury rates that occur at its warehouses nationwide.

Ways to Keep Construction Workers Safe

When it comes to work, construction is one of the most dangerous industries out there. Construction workers face all different kinds of on-the-job dangers, like falls, electrocution, automobile collisions, crushing injuries, cave-ins, and many more. According to the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA), the majority of fatal and nonfatal workplace injuries that take place are preventable, but in order to reduce workplace injury rates employers must first commit to taking the necessary steps to promote the safety and health of workers.

PRODUCTS LIABILITY

ATV Accident Season Has Arrived

Manufacturers design and build all-terrain vehicles (ATVs) for usage in a variety of outdoor terrains. However, these vehicles come with numerous safety risks. The number of fatal ATV accidents peaks dramatically in July, according to the Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC). Some accidents are due to the recklessness of the driver or misuse of the vehicle. Other accidents are the result of negligence on the part of the premises owner, or in the case of a minor, another adult who allowed a child to use an ATV unsupervised.

What Should I Do if I am in an Accident on Vacation?

Families across the United States are eager to get on the road this summer and go on vacation after more than a year of pandemic restrictions. The increase in vehicular traffic also means a greater chance of getting into a car accident on vacation.

Accidents create frustration and upheaval no matter where they happen. However, when they occur away from home, the stress can be much greater. Travelers may also face transportation issues if their vehicle is badly damaged in a car accident, if their injuries make it impossible for them to drive, or if they must cancel and rebook flights.

MEDICAL MALPRACTICE

Inaccurate Blood Pressure Readings

Current estimates suggest that there are more than 120 millions adults living with high blood pressure in the United States. High blood pressure (or hypertension) comes with a slew of unique risk factors and potential medical complications, such as heart disease and stroke. High blood pressure can develop with little-to-no symptoms, which is why it is important that people undergo regular blood pressure readings to draw attention to potential problems. Blood pressure readings measure how hard blood pushes against the walls of the arteries as it travels through the body.
