WORKPLACE SAFETY

Observing National Safety Month

This June, the National Safety Council (NSC) observed National Safety Month. This annual observance addresses key workplace safety and health topics in order to reduce the hundreds of thousands of preventable occupational injuries and fatalities that occur each year. For this year's National Safety Month, the NSC focused on four primary topics: musculoskeletal disorders, workplace impairment, injury prevention and slips, trips, and falls.

MEDICAL MALPRACTICE

Safeguard Yourself Against Skin Cancer

Skin cancer, or the abnormal growth of skin cells, is the most common cancer in the United States. Typically resulting from exposure to the sun, there are three primary types of skin cancers: basal cell carcinoma, squamous cell carcinoma and melanoma. As you and your loved ones enjoy spending time outdoors this summer, remember to take steps to protect your skin from harmful ultraviolet (UV) rays.

PREMISES LIABILITY

The Dangers of Amusement Park Accidents

Recently, a 14-year-old boy died after falling from a ride at ICON Park in Orlando, Florida. Unfortunately, he may not be the only fatality this year as amusement park season gets into full swing. Research shows there are nearly 12,000 emergency room visits in an average year due to amusement and water park injuries and deaths. Injuries can range from lacerations, bruises, and broken bones to concussions, traumatic brain injury, and paralysis.

CAR ACCIDENTS

New NHTSA Data Shows Highest Number of Traffic Deaths Since 2005

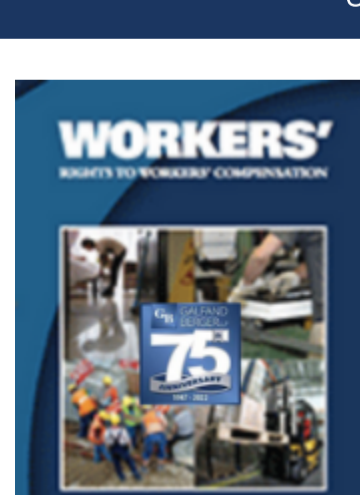

According to the most recent projections from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, or NHTSA, an estimated 42,915 people died in traffic accidents in 2021. The agency's projections represent not only a 10.5% increase from the 38,824 deaths that occurred the year before, but also the highest number of reported traffic fatalities since 2005.
